

ADVANCED PROSTHODONTICS – ADHESIVE INDIRECT RESTORATIONS

DATE:
Friday 28 May 2010

TIME:
Registration: 8.30am
Commence: 9.00am
Finish: 5.00pm

VENUE:
The Royal Australasian College of Surgeons
College of Surgeons' Gardens
250 – 290 Spring Street
East Melbourne

FEE (GST incl.):
$825 – ADAVB members only

COURSE FORMAT:
Lecture and hands-on workshop

REGISTRATION LIMIT:
15 ADAVB members only

CPD CREDIT:
6 hours Scientific CPD

THIS SEMINAR IS PROUDLY SUPPORTED BY:

3M ESPE

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

Types of Ceramics

- Silica based: feldspathic and pressable ceramics
- High strength: alumina, zirconia, inceram
- Diagnosis and treatment planning, choosing the right materials

Preparation Design

- Onlays, crowns and inlays
- Veneer preparation
- Techniques for adequate reduction

Retraction Techniques

- Cordless, double cord and laser

Impression Techniques

- Putty/wash
- Heavy body/light body
- Injection moulded techniques

Provisionalisation

- Bis-acryl resin
- 'Protemp' crown
- Inlay provisionalisation

Luting

- Preparation of ceramics
- Cementation vs. bonding
- Self-etch resin cementation

Finishing and Polishing

Occlusal Management

This one-day program, comprising of lecture and practical hands-on sessions will provide participants with a solid overview of treatment planning and prescribing ceramic restorations. Participants will have the opportunity to practice preparation techniques in a workshop environment.

DR CHRISTOPHER HO General Practitioner, Sydney

Dr Christopher Ho was awarded his Bachelor in Dental Surgery with First Class Honours at the University of Sydney, and has completed his Graduate Diploma in Clinical Dentistry (Oral Implants), and a Masters in Clinical Dentistry (Prosthodontics). He has lectured nationally and internationally on aesthetic and implant dentistry, and is involved with evaluation and trial of new dental products and materials. He maintains a referral based practice in prosthodontics and implant dentistry in Sydney.